Your Pipe – A Welcome Enjoyment

As a pipe smoker, of course, one is used to getting inquisitive looks. The preparation alone before lighting the pipe emits a sovereign calmness which has nothing to do with hectic addiction. The pipe enjoys greater and greater recognition because it is – obvious to everybody – about relaxed pleasure. A pleasure which people appreciate because of its pleasant aroma. Pipe smoking has long been accepted and even welcomed in the home by wives and friends.

Whether the designer pipes from Volker Hundertmark and Horst Lichter, the comfortable Giant, the unusual Palma or, of course, the noble Wood – our autumn novelties should give you inspiration for the enjoyment of your hobby.

Continue to enjoy
with relaxation –
Yours, Alexander Eckert

A. Eckert

Volker Hundertmark

Likeable – the first impression of Volker Hundertmark is not deceptive. Being a designer and a fan of Scandinavia, he leaves a trace of his congeniality and friendly open-mindedness in all projects. His great passion for flowing lines brought about his concept for the VH which arouses enthusiasm in its wonderful form and perfect processing from every considerable angle. Such an individual pipe naturally also deserves individual presentation. The chief attraction of the wooden pipe stand made from noble Cocobolo: Inside it also offers space for the safekeeping of pipe-cleaners. Pipe and stand are delivered aptly in a beautiful metal packaging. The VH really is essential to every collection!

* The white dot – grey for export – on the mouthpiece has, since 1911, denoted the specially selected quality of the pipes from the house of VAUEN. It guarantees careful choice of materials, attractive grains and the most elaborate craft processing.

All pipes in this brochure are illustrated in approx. 56% of the actual size.

Giant

Whether at the end of the working day or week-end: Switching off with a good pipe and letting your cares float away is surely one of the best moments of the day. In these moments the Giant is a wonderful companion, because, through its medium-sized to big bowls, it extends the time of relaxation. Its allure comes from its semi-gloss surface, elegant grace and emphatically beautiful grain.

Giant

Through its elaborate hand rustication and thereby enlarged surface area, this model of the Giant lies cooler in the hand and so offers an even more agreeable smoking experience. It is also less sensitive to scratching or soiling and therefore a superb companion for comfortable stretches on the road.

Horst Lichter Collection 2011

After the magnificent success of the first collection, there was no question that this autumn a new Horst Lichter pipe menu should be served. Thus, in close cooperation with the charismatic TV-master chef and restaurant owner this wonderful pipe collection was created. The New Horst Lichter is available in smooth brown, black high gloss and rusticated. Every pipe carries a number and there will be no more than 1,500 pieces distributed worldwide.

The cooks signature decorates the embedded ornamental ring made from sterling silver. Naturally in white dot quality and made of the finest briarwood, this crafted masterpiece is delivered in special packaging. Appropriate to the pipe there is again a noble automatic-tamper which is offered in two colours matching the pipes. To perfectly complete the menu, together with Horst Lichter, we have created a red wine tobacco which exudes a likeable, unobtrusive aroma and will inspire the connoisseurs among you.

Palma

Quite a special collection – without them the microcosm of pipe smoking would be poorer in many respects. We are referring to these unusual pipes which break away from the familiar form and go new ways optically. Palma is available in three smooth models and one hand rusticated model.

In the bowl a fine, silvery ring which underlines the right-angled connection with the stem is embedded in an ingenious manner. Palma, of strong character, is delivered in a noble wooden box.

Wood

These pipes bear their name with honour, because the wonderfully processed and harmonized wood lends them a really natural elegance. Not only do the combinations of maple and walnut or maple and rosewood complement the classical form of the pipes, but they also make them absolute eye-catchers.

The Wood pipes are light, lie pleasantly in the hand and guarantee perfect smoking quality through the briarwood lined tobacco chamber.
